FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

2 FEBRUARY 2015

Ivory employees offer vegetarian food, drinks and coconuts

A long queue was seen at the stall of Ivorycares – the charitable arm of Ivory Properties Group Berhad, where the volunteers had prepared vegetarian food and drinks for some 2,000 devotees in front of Penang Times Square.

Management and employees took a break from their work to extend their serving to public during the Thaipusam eve parade.

Complemented by a lion dance troupe followed by peacock dance and bommai dance, the chariot inched its way along smashed coconut covered Jalan Datuk Keramat.

Among those who participated in smashing of the 2001 coconuts alongside the staff members and tourists were Ivory Properties Group Berhad chief executive officer Datuk Low Eng Hock, director Lim Hock Siew, chief operating officer Goh Chin Heng and Ivory Associates Sdn. Bhd. Director Ron Loh Chin Chuen.

Also present to join the group in offering fruits, flowers, incense and perfumed joss sticks to Lord Muruga were Tanjong MP Ng Wei Aik and Komtar assemblyman Teh Lai Heng. Ivorycares vice president Ann Tan said it was the nine year the caring employees made their contributions to serve food and drinks for devotees.

‘Although the price increase in food items and coconuts, but we still manage to raise fund to offer vegetarian food and drinks to more devotees,’ she said.

Ends.
